

When writing many expressions with exponents we can simplify our task, and save time, by defining a suitable command:

We can use it like this:

$$(x + y)^2$$

And even the exponent can be changed:

$$(a + b)^4$$