

In a document there are different types of commands that define the way the elements are displayed. This commands may insert special elements: $\alpha\beta\Gamma$

A list example:

§ First item

- Second item